THROUGH GERMAN SPECTACLES.

THE MADNESS OF AN ENTIRE NATION.

Germans to "Inherit the Earth."

All the circumstances of the present war and the causes which led up to the greatest tragedy in the world's history show, without the shadow of a doubt, that an acute and perilous form of megalomania has the German nation in its grip, says the

"Daily Express."

The Germans see themselves as angels of light, the chosen people of God to rule the earth. In the "Kreuzzeitung" Otto Hauser, a writer known throughout the whole of the German Empire, writes as follows:—

All the great deeds that have electrified

the world from the remotest days to the present time have been accomplished by the fair-haired and the blue-eyed. The blood race enjoys an intellectual superiority over the two remaining basic races of man, the Polars and the black races.

The blond race is again subdivided into two families—the mixed Polars and men, such as the English, the French, the Italians, and the other inhabitants of Europe and North America, and the pure blond—the Teutons or Germans.

The latter variety is destined to rule the earth. It is the wisest provision of nature for the future of the world.

For were it otherwise, were the future bequeathed to the mixed types and the negroid or black races, civilization would go under in the vortex of barbarism that at this moment surges around the German

Empire.

"A relation of the glories of the pure blond men would fill many a volume.

These elect specimens of humanity have caused the whole earth to be indebted to them for their wisdom and their gifts of genius. They are blonde, and also they are of pure Teutonic stock, though they have strayed away and made their homes among the lower mixed families."

"BLEND ARE THE MIXED."

If any English writer of corresponding eminence had been able to find publicity for reflections such as these, he would have been provided with a stark-witted and comfortable padded cell in Bedlam; yet

Otto Hauser writes and the "Kreuzzeitung" prints it all in a mild blood. But there is more madness to follow.

"David was blonde and Teuton. Dante was fair-haired and blue-eyed, so were

Raphael, Leonardo da Vinci and Shakespeare. Napoleon himself was blonde as a child.

"It was the Teutons who were referred to in the Scriptures when it was declared:

"These, the German race has lost some of its ancient nobility by the infiltration of foreign blood. After the war, however, the bad effects of this admixture will gradually be eliminated for all such future generations will be so actively and resistently discouraged by the auto-tit that henceforth the German people will desist to mingle their blood with that of their inferiors, and from the middle of human varieties the pure blonde Teuton will arise in all the glory of his godlike attributes, bold, undisputed, away over all dominions of the earth.

AND TO BE DESTROYED.

Speaking through the congenial columns of the "Deutsche Tageszeitung," this godlike people expresses the following pious wish:—

"The German nation has no greater and more ardent desire than to see the employment of every possible means, without restriction of any kind, to ruin, to destroy

England. Let us call it a patriotic duty on without cessation, but let us not be pitiless. The most potent destructive methods known to science must be employed.

"These are autumn days will be followed by nights that grow longer and longer.

They will give us an opportunity to show the city that shrine of British pride what we think of its inviolability."

THE JOY OF SLAUGHTER.

The "Hamburger Nachrichten" is in a similarly optimistic mood.

"England has shown the world that she has many other items on her programme besides the despicable plans of starvation

she has evolved against us, and which have failed so miserably.

"She has now resorted to stealing the correspondence, hitherto considered sacred and inviolable, of an Embassy in England's behaviour is such as to cause every nation with feelings of decency to hold a handkerchief to her nose and turn away from so repugnant a collection of human depravity as is represented by the British Empire.

"Meanwhile, German slanders have again soiled London, the formidably armed and fortified heart and soul of the Empire, with their death-dealing bombs. The heart of every German who has learned to know the English, and comprehend the real significance of the way, leaps with joy. We have shown the world that we wage the war with martial weapons, not by assassination, treachery, and the destruction of all kinds."

OF ALL CHEMISTS.

A plan of Germany's economic situation which has hitherto been avoided studiously by the subsidized Press if dealt with in a very outspoken fashion by the Socialist Daily Journal, "Forts."

"There has been a great decrease in the output of the Westphalian coal mines during the past twelve months, due in a large measure to the acute by of labour."

"For some months efforts have been made to remedy this state of things by employing prisoners of war in this work."

In the first place, however, as may be imagined, the number of expert miners to be found among these prisoners is limited."

"The second result of their work in the mines has not been very satisfactory as a sufficient number of miners."

"It thus becomes evident that the scarcity of hands can hardly be compensated by such means as these. The question, therefore, is whether it will not be found absolutely indispensable to demobilize a sufficient number of miners."

"Either we must resort to this expedient, it seems to us, or we shall have to face a distress this coming winter which will be truly appalling."

Chinese who interest themselves in politics could at the present time easily show a large majority in favour of a reversion to Monarchism. The most serious among them wish that their country's government should be modelled on the plan that has worked so well for the British and that like the British, they should be governed by what is termed a "Limited Monarchy" with a King and a properly constituted Parliament—the King invested with powers (such as both Parliament and country should consider as being that only having the right to exercise a veto on Parliamentary action)—and that only in accordance with the advice of responsible Ministers of State.

This is what the more enlightened of the Chinese of to-day want and this is, to a certain extent, what they are about to set up with the powerful concurrence of President Yuan. Our qualifying phrase means that if the more ardent of the present day reformers expect to get all they want with the adoption of Monarchy they will, in our opinion, be disappointed. The building up of Parliamentary institutions is a much more difficult and a much slower process than the reversion from Republicanism to Monarchism—at least, in China.

Everything to-day points to President Yuan being proclaimed Emperor within a very brief period of time; in fact, it is reported that the Chinese officials at Peking have actually fixed upon January 1 of next year as the actual date of the auspicious event; and though that event will take place early, it will be quite a few years before China will be under the sway of those ideals associated with the prerogatives of a limited Monarchy, guiding and being guided by—(it sounds paradoxical!)—Parliament working on a basis of sound Constitutionalism. China is by no means the only country that has reverted to Monarchism after a spell of Commonwealth or Republican ideals; and we see no reason why China should not prosper under the change. In fact, we are more than ever of opinion that the Monarchical ideal is—at any rate at the present stage of China's history—much more suited to her requirements than any other form of Government that might be chosen.

A HONGKONG SOLDIER AT THE FRONT.

An Interesting Letter.

Les, Corporal Cyril Wilkie, on October 14, wrote to a friend in Hongkong as follows:—"We were last reserve, believe me, the local attack on 20th Sept. and we never got a shell near us. We have been in the trenches twice since then and are now out for a spell. The offensive on our front appears to be held up by the weather; that's pretty rotten. Just today I've been out here 6 1/2 months and have been in an attack! There are only Lapaley, Briggs and myself (of Hongkong) left at present actually in this Company. Briggs got a job at Divisional Headquarters, Victor at Battalion Headquarters, and I've been passed through for an officer, the Evans, the former being in the 9th Essex and Evans posted to the 13th Middlesex. Wilson got on a mining course and has not come back. Loh, who was an interpreter and Post Corporal, Hyderabad, has left his Company, I.e. B. So you see they are all good-looking fellows. The Divisional Band has just struck up at the back of our billet. This will be the third time I've heard it. I am quite well and fit."

The Bishop of Victoria has returned from Swatow by the Hanching. At Swatow last Sunday his Lordship held service in the English Church. With the Rev. Dr. Campbell Gibson, he conducted a service of intercession in connection with the war on Monday, which was very largely attended.

SEQUEL TO THE EXTRA-DITION CASE.

TO-DAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

Mr. Eldon Potter, Counsel for Hung Shiu Lung, (who is alleged to be a revolutionary with a commission from Dr. Sun Yat Sen to start a Third Revolution, and from whom an appeal is being made for his liberation from Victoria Gaol) continued his argument in the Full Court to-day, that the fugitive was being detained illegally, on a Magistrate's order.

The Crown is represented by the Attorney General (Mr. J. H. Kemp) Mr. Shing Kit and Mr. C. O. Leung (instructed by the Crown Solicitor, Mr. E. M. Hodgson). Counsel for the fugitive cited the case of Lo Shing Kit, a rebel who was executed and rightly but the witness for the Crown stated that Lo Shing Kit was executed because he had received stolen property. It was then before the soldiers and shot as an example. Nobody could shed fault with that execution because that was what happened when a rebel was captured in arms against the Government.

Counsel read from the Canton Government Gazette for Nov. 14, in which it was stated that a special denunciation had been brought into existence for the suppression of the rebellion and stated further: "whereas Hung Shiu Lung and others have raised a rebellion on Tung Kuo East River and Tung Pun has been directly ordered to suppress and arrest them. Hung Pun was shot and killed. The fugitive on a triple charge of murder but as a rebel. The documents in the Gazette were dated after the dates of the alleged murders of which no mention was made. It was evident from the documents that the Chinese Government desired the surrender of this man in order to punish him for being a political offender. The fugitive was bracketed with three others and the price of $10,000 was upon his head. The first two of the three murders were in General Leung's requisition. If General Leung had sent down a requisition to the Hongkong Government asking for the arrest of the fugitive as a political offender, the Attorney General and the Crown Solicitor would have laughed at it. General Leung and his advisers knew very well that the law of England no man could be extradited for a political offence.

Other important documents were also referred to by Mr. Potter, in which the fugitive was referred to as the "robber-leader," but he did not apparently do a robbery at Sam Chai where the alleged murders took place. The document went on to say: "This is the way they have treated the will of Heaven and put the people in dust and ashes, but the troops have repulsed the rebels and seized their badges, signals, regulations, notices and other documents. The fugitive on a triple charge of murder but as a rebel. That was to say, said Counsel, that the soldiers would have to put up so much money and if the rebels wanted to live in Hongkong they could not money would be taken from them. That was the way the Chinese Government held the rebels to ransom. Another document referred to the rebels as "the work characters and great criminals and it was expedient that immediate steps should be taken to suppress and arrest them. The document also showed the feeling underlying the mind of the Canton Government, Counsel had no hesitation in saying that the man in the dock knew that if he fell into the hands of the Chinese Government he would be held next month and the new proposal will not be announced. Such a move in the share market locally will have distinct advantages. The Company whose main business office is established locally with Messrs. Jardine Matheson & Co., Ltd., as agents, will benefit considerably and Indo-China will be expected to make a still firmer stand.

INDO-CHINA.

Causes of a "Little Boom."

The activity on the share exchange yesterday afternoon in Indo-China, following upon a rumour that the Head Office of the Company was to be transferred to Hongkong provided not a little excitement. The report also gained currency that Indo-China had been exempted from Home Budget restrictions. No official confirmation was given. A statement by Mr. D. La Salle this morning to a "China Mail" representative that the home shareholders had expressed a desire to support the suggestion of the transfer of the Head Office from London to Hongkong, and that the new proposal will not be announced. THE ASSASSINATION OF ADMIRAL TSENG.

TRIAL OF THE PRISONERS.

Wang Shiu-fong, married, a student living in Avenue Joffre, Shanghai, and a native of Kirin, and Wang Ming-ming, single, shopkeeper, of Avenue Joffre, and a native of Shanghai, were charged with having at 11.15 a.m. on November 10, on the Whangpoo Road, Shanghai, feloniously and wilfully and of malice aforethought murdered Admiral Tseng Ju-cheng, aged 59 years, by shooting him with a pistol. They were further charged with murdering one Su Ching-san by shooting him with a pistol and further with feloniously and unlawfully and maliciously causing grievous bodily harm to A. Hsueh-yang, aged 27 by exploding a bomb.

Mr. Newman again appeared to prosecute, and Mr. Musso appeared for the Chinese Government. The accused were not represented.

The Japanese Assessor was also on the Bench. Mr. Newman asked the Court to interrogate the accused as to whether they pleaded guilty or not and upon being asked, they admitted the crimes with which they were charged.

Mr. Newman, in the course of a statement, outlined the facts of the case, and said that when the prisoners were searched at the Hongkong Police Station, one of the accused was found to be wearing a cloth belt round his waist. Ten clips, a full set of cartridges, were contained in this, and in the man's pocket five more clips, also full of cartridges, were found, making 130 cartridges altogether. The other man had seven clips containing 84 cartridges. The Admiral was taken to St. Luke's Hospital, but on arrival it was found that he was dead. An examination by the doctor revealed no fewer than sixteen wounds on the Admiral's body.

With regard to the charge referring to the wounding of a Japanese, the Assessor said that the Japanese Assessor was sitting in order to watch the interests of the Japanese subject.

Mr. Newman concluded by stating that the motor car bore strong evidence of the bullets. The wind screen was shattered, and the place for the chauffeur was riddled with bullets. In company with one of the accused, a detective, in conjunction with the French police, visited the alleged dwelling place of the accused, but no papers of account or other documents were found. These were evidence, however, such as a cigar which was quite warm, that at 1.20 somebody had been in the house.

Sub-Inspector MacGregor, in charge of the Harbin Road Station, was called, and gave evidence similar to that given in the morning. He said that at the time there was a lot of traffic and the chauffeur took a short cut instead of going round. He handed in a plan of the victim which he had prepared. He heard the "toot" of a motor car, and on turning round he saw a black car which was in uniform, and he noticed that he wore a row of medals and orders across his breast. The car had gone about fifteen feet when he heard an explosion, and he then saw the two accused alongside the car, carrying their revolvers into the car. One of the men was on the running board, firing into the car, and the other man was running alongside. The witness had a stick in his hand, with which he hit the man over the head. He released his hand of the car, and when he got down, the witness saw three men arm round his neck, and with the other hand he grasped the prisoner's hand which held a revolver. Witness wrenched the revolver from him, and it dropped to the ground. In the tussle, he caught his foot in the man's garment, and they both fell to the ground, witness being on top. They struggled for a few minutes, and witness noticed that the revolver was only about six inches away from the man's hand. He managed to get hold of his middle finger and prevented him from getting the weapon. He then called to some foreman to take the revolver away, but no assistance was given. Witness eventually overpowered the man and got him on his feet, and he and Inspector Johnson took the two accused to the station. A fifth policeman picked up the revolver. He did not see the occupants of the car, and could not recognize them because the hood of the car was up.

In answer to the Assessor, Inspector MacGregor said that both men were firing at the same time into the car. They appeared to be aiming at somebody sitting in the back of the car. The only person whom witness saw round the car were the accused. P. O. Tapley also gave evidence, regarding the arrest of another man who was carrying a revolver, but who was not present for the trial. He said that he was carrying a revolver, but who was not present for the trial. He said that he was carrying a revolver, but who was not present for the trial.

Mr. Newman said that having regard to the short time they had had it was impossible to get all the witnesses, but their evidence merely corroborated that already given. In view of the evidence and the fact that the prisoners had pleaded guilty, he submitted that the charges had been proved.

The Japanese subject then gave evidence as to being his with a piece of the bomb. Mr. Musso, on behalf of the Chinese Government, asked that the plea not be heard over. He said they were not heard over. He said they were not heard over. He said they were not heard over.

Mr. Newman endorsed what his friend had said, and remarked that there was every reason why the men should be handed over.

The accused then made statements, being questioned by the Magistrate. The first accused said they were very disappointed when they heard that Yuan Shih-kai was going to be Emperor and they resolved to kill Admiral Tseng. The first day they arrived from Shanghai they lived in a brothel. They came down four days ago, and they always stayed together. On Wednesday morning they went to the Gaol Bridge, arriving there about 11 o'clock. They were only the two of them connected. They had been waiting about an hour, when the Admiral's car came along. The Magistrate—How did you know that the Admiral was there?—Because I know the man who was with him. He said that he was with him. He said that he was with him. He said that he was with him.

Mr. Newman asked the Court to interrogate the accused as to whether they pleaded guilty or not and upon being asked, they admitted the crimes with which they were charged.

GYMKHANA TRAINING TIMES.

The course this morning was an improvement on Tuesday's condition; but it was still very "dead" and a strong adverse breeze affected the ponies' efforts down the home straight. Consequently the seconds quoted for "last quarter" in all cases were worse than they would otherwise have been. Mesutah, Mr. Knoll up, galloped yesterday morning and did 2.10.2 for a mile, last quarter 32.2. It was a nice performance, the pony not being unduly pressed over the whole journey. To-morrow we shall publish some comments and tips written by our special turf correspondent "Wong-ni-cheng."

The first race on Saturday is the Gymkhana Stakes and is timed to start at 3.15 p.m.

This morning's times were—

SPORTING.

HONGKONG CRICKET CLUB.

The following will represent Hongkong E. V. Kipling, A. A. Kipling, next Saturday, play beginning at 2.15 p.m. G. E. Andrew, F. H. Baker, Major H. P. Barril, Edgar R. Kenney, S. S. Moore, Major Morgan, E. B. Reed, F. Syme, Thomson, H. H. Taylor, R. P. Thurfield, and A. Whitman.

FOOTBALL.

H.K.F.C. v. R.E. H.K.F.C.—A. N. Ocher, J. Skaller and W. Black; P. Tod, P. T. R. Chasels, and M. L. Ralston; G. A. Robinson, J. Stew, J. Walker, R. McTavish and W. V. P. null, Navy Ground, Kick off at 4 p.m. Saturday.

The game between the Hongkong F. C. and the Staff and Departmental yesterday did not produce much football. Victory went to the Club by one goal, scored by McTavish with a fine goal, to nil, although the soldiers showed rather better combination. The club are losing the services of two men, R. Edwards and W. Swan, who are shortly leaving for the Front. Swan will be particularly missed as goalkeeper.

In the second division the 87th Co. R. F. lost to the 88th Co. R. F. after an interesting struggle and two good draws of one goal each were recorded in the 10th Co. R. F. and University v. Shamshir 11 matches.

DEALING WITH A NUISANCE.

Inspector McEwen, of the Special Police Reserve, charged two Chinese at the Police Court this morning before Mr. Lindell with depositing rubbish in Duddell Street. He said they were one on each side of the street in the afternoon, taking away heaps of rubbish supposedly from the neighbouring houses, which would have been emptied into the dust cart an hour later. One defendant said he only picked up two pieces of paper and had no box or tin. Defendants were each fined $5 or ten days.

KILLED IN ACTION.

Death of A Shanghai Soldier.

It is with much regret that we (N. C. Daily News) announce that Mr. Percy Lambie was killed in action in France on Sunday last. The deceased, who was the fourth son of the late Mr. George Lambie, was educated at Runby School, and started his business career in London before coming to China in 1903 to join the firm of Wheeler
